

SAFE & UNSAFE SECRETS

	Safe	Unsafe
A friend wants you to play a game about touching private parts
Someone you know and like asks you to keep a secret about a surprise party for your grandma next week
Your sister tells you that someone that you know and like has been breaking the Body Rules. You can tell she is upset about it and you feel worried. She asks you to promise not to tell anyone.
Your cousin or friend showed you pictures on the computer of grown-ups and kids without clothes on that make you feel uncomfortable
Your brother asks you to keep a secret about a gift he made for your aunt's birthday
Your friend tells you that they are getting bullied
Your friend tells you the surprise present they bought for your other friend
Your friend has a big bruise on his arm. When you ask him where he got it, he says he doesn't remember. He looks scared. You're not sure what to think and feel confused about what to do.

A safe secret is a secret is about birthdays and surprises and comes to an end. An unsafe secret is a secret that doesn't make you feel good and doesn't come to an end.
